

The academy was founded in 1926, honoring life members in the sections of science and medicine, arts and letters, and ethical and political sciences. Prof. Nehamas was elected to the Chair of the History of Philosophy in the last of these sections.